

DECEMBER 2023

Boy time flies when your having fun, so goes the saying. I have been making Christmas wreaths everyday from 8am until 5pm since the 13th of November. When I get home I eat dinner and collapse. I have been going to bed around 8 or 9 pm!! Not like me.

I wish everyone a joyous Christmas and I hope your Thanksgiving went well for you.

Remember to check out Action Corp and report on your findings and send messages to your representative in Congress and in the Senate both at the State level and at the National level. They need to know we care about Veteran issues and that they are hired by us and WE THE PEOPLE have interests. Let your voices be heard.

Take care and stay safe. I will write more for January.
