

Hi Everyone,

I want to introduce myself; my name is Jennifer and I'm with Post 584 in Albany and I am your new Youth Activities Chairman.

Summer is here and it's a great time to set up a lending library for your community—kids are out of school, and it is important to keep up on reading skills. I looked on Amazon and to buy a learning library kit costs between $40 and $200, depending on how fancy it is. I would go to your local post, YMCA, Boys and Girl Club, library, your church, etc. and get permission to set up a lending library. Perhaps your local library already supports a lending library then your auxiliary could donate books to it. You can get a list of patriotic books in Malta, just sign into MALTA and go to Member Resources, then click on Youth Activities and then Patriotism through Literacy where you'll find a list of books. I wish you the best of luck with your library lending.

Sincerely,

Jennifer Martin
